

Nutralia S.R.L. is a company located in Santa Fe, dedicated to the production of emulsions and premixes of vitamins, minerals, essential fatty acids and other nutrients for fortification and enrichment of food for human consumption; production of antioxidants for food and resale of pure inputs, for the domestic market and export.

From Nutralia S.R.L. we are committed to respect and ensure the protection of human rights within our sphere of influence and in all relationships arising as a result of the activity, through compliance with regulations and the adoption of policies and processes to identify, prevent or mitigate human rights risks and repair the negative impact it may cause, or to which it has contributed.

Due to our position within the food chain, the company's management establishes the following working principles:

- Compliance with legal requirements, regulations, those agreed with the customer and the Food Safety management system, seeking the satisfaction of our customers by providing a response to their needs in a timely manner.
- The permanent work in the continuous improvement of quality and safety in products, procedures and services, both productive and administrative, considering the prevention of food losses and waste.
- Ensure the competencies related to the culture of quality and food safety, encouraging participation, teamwork and promoting their development within the company.
- The values of respect, responsibility and suitability as ethical conduct of its members in their daily work.
- Development and maintenance of reliable suppliers with emphasis on attributes related to the quality and safety of the products provided.
- Establish effective internal and external communication channels that allow us to provide a timely response to any change that may affect the quality and safety of our products.

The management of our company ensures the allocation of the necessary resources to achieve the required quality and safety standards and is committed to the implementation of the principles of this policy, as well as its dissemination among all members of our organization.